700 Men At Work On Palo Duro State Park

MEN WORKING TO COMPLETE IMPROVEMENT

First Dam Will Be Finished During Next 10 Days

SECTION OF ROAD

Hereford Company Put to Work on Palo Duro Park

Seven hundred men are now at Palo Duro Park, all engaged in work on the Park project.

The two CCC companies have been filled above normal strength in order to take care of the average loss during the three-months period.

The Hereford company is at work on the Palo Duro park project until it is ready to move to the new park which is being established. The additional 200 men have been used to great advantage during the week in winding up some of the projects which have been held up by lack of men and material during the past three months.

Major E. E. Kingsley states that the first dam will be completed in ten days. The water gates will be received next week and set in place.

A new section of the road will be opened by the end of this week which will eliminate three temporary crossings on the creek.

Water from well No. 3 has been tested by the Amarillo city chemist and found to be of excellent quality, and the coldest that is being produced by any of the wells. In order to insure an adequate water supply a fourth well was started Tuesday on the Finch place.

J. H. Haile, Jr., purchasing agent for the State Parks Board, was a visitor at the Park over Sunday. He expressed great surprise to Major Kingsley at the magnitude of the Palo Duro and the work which was being accomplished on the Park.

Warwick Spending Considerable Time In Small Campaign

Clyde Warwick of Canyon was called upon the past week for several speeches in the interest of the candidacy of Clint Small, candidate for Governor. He accompanied the two day caravan Thursday and Friday which visited several towns on the South Plains. Rallies were held at Quitaque, Silverton, Floydada and Lockney at which Warwick spoke.

He will speak over the radio in Amarillo at 12:50 today and again at 8:40 tonight. Another engagement is scheduled for Turkey Friday night.

Fred E. Wortham of Canyon is publicity man for the Small headquarters and devoting all of his time to this work.

Subscriptions At Reduced Rates to End on Saturday

The Election Special subscription rates will come to a close Saturday night. The special rate of $1.00 per year, or $3.00 for five years have proven to be very attractive to the citizens of Randall county.

The News goes into all of the homes of Randall county again this week. We trust that many who have not been receiving the News in the past will subscribe before Saturday night so as to continue to receive the paper regularly.

County Returns Alone Will Be Posted Saturday

Election returns from Randall County will be posted at The News office Saturday night until the county is completed.

Owing to the change in policy of the Texas Election Bureau, no state returns will be posted in any city of the state. The newspapers of the state own and operate the Texas Election Bureau. In the past radio broadcasting stations have used the information collected at the expense of the newspapers. At intervals during the night, broadcasts may be given as to the order in which state candidates are running, but authentic figures will be available alone in the newspapers.

Senator Small to Talk to Home Folks on Radio Saturday

"Sentiment for Clint Small is sweeping the state."

These are the encouraging reports reaching the Panhandle campaign headquarters as the closing days of the present primary campaign draw to a close. From every sector, nook and corner of Texas comes information that Senator Clint Small is up in the running and due for a place in the run-off primary, in the present gubernatorial campaign.

This week has brought a rush of activities for Senator Small in his home district, as Panhandle supporters exerted every effort in his behalf to roll up for him the greatest number of votes he has ever received in the 26 counties of the 31st Senatorial District.

Closing rallies in behalf of Small include an all-Small rally at Pampa, Thursday night, July 26, when a group of speakers including "Old Tack" Gene Howe of the News-Globe, and Mayor Ross Rogers of Amarillo, Judge H. E. Hoover of Canadian, and John Sturgeon of Pampa.

A big rally for Small will be held in Turkey Friday night, July 27th, in charge of his friends in that section of Hall county. Clyde W. Warwick will speak in Small's behalf at the Turkey rally. Other county rallies are being planned for tonight and Friday.

Senator Small will close his speaking itinerary with an address in Quanah Friday night. His closing appeal to his home folks will be in the form of a radio talk from an Amarillo station at 7:00 Saturday morning.

Half of County Is Covered By Rainfall Monday

Rain varying in amount, from a mere sprinkle to a full four inches, fell in Randall county Sunday night and Monday.

In Canyon the rainfall measured .65 of an inch Monday evening. The rain did not extend far east of Canyon.

The rain covered practically all of the west half of the county, from a quarter to a half inch. Very little rain is reported in the east section.

STOP ORDERS CATTLE BUYING AGAIN RECEIVED

6,000 Head Have Been Bought By Randall Committee

TWO CREWS NOW

Quota Likely Will Be Made When Buying Starts

Cattle buying was stopped yesterday in Randall county owing to the congestion in the canning plants over the Southwest.

The buying program was halted Saturday owing to the same condition, but was resumed Tuesday.

It is believed that from now on a quota will be given each county in the drouth district in order that no more congestions will arise.

Randall county farmers have sold about 6000 head to the government. Before the stop order came yesterday, 400 head had been purchased during the day. Two crews have been at work in the county, which has made it possible to practically cover the county once, and make preparation for a second round.

County Agent W. H. Upchurch stated this morning that the government will accept the cattle which were bought yesterday, but no statement has been given as to when the buying will be resumed.

The committee urges that all farmers who wish to dispose of more cattle shall list them at once at the Commissioners' Court room. This will greatly facilitate buying when orders are givent o resume

East Texans Tell West Texans About Clint Small

Prominent East Texas citizens addressed the voters of West Texas Friday night over WBAP, telling them how much East Texas appreciated Senator Clint Small, and how East Texas will join West Texas in electing him the next Governor of Texas next Saturday.

The six speakers were alloted five minutes each, and told in most impressive talks the manner in which Senator Small was sweeping East Texas. His services to the entire state were highly praised. Judge E. M. Bramlette of Gregg county presided. R. M. Kelly of Longview, Wright Morrow of Houston, Judge K. W. Denman of Lufkin, Senator Jim Strong of Carthage, and W. R. Nicholson of Longview were the speakers.

West Texas responded last night when the following speakers told East Texas that this section would be swept by Senator Small: Dr. J. D. Standefer, president of Simmons University, Abilene; Chas. A. Guy, Lubbock; W. B. Hamilton, Wichita Falls; Jay Taylor, Amarillo; Mayor Ross Rogers, Amarillo; Mayor Deskins Wells, Wellington.

Clint Small Sentiment Is Sweeping State

All doubt that Clint Small will be in the second primary has been removed by the great swing to him during the past two weeks. His fight upon crime, gambling and lawlessness is bringing to him the endorsement of thousands of leading citizens who are tired of the lawless element's control in Texas.

Word comes from every section of Texas that Clint Small is making tremendous gains.

"Nothing like it in the history of Texas," stated a prominent citizen. "It compares to the great swell which took place in Oklahoma, where the law abiding citizens, and those interested in good government elected Marland above the others in the race," stated this man.

Corsicana Pastor Urges Leaders To Move on Forward

Rev. P. Martin Baker, Presbyterian pastor from Corsicana, was the speaker at the Canyon Rotary luncheon Tuesday. His subject was "waiting for the spirits to catch up with our bodies." He described conditions following the war, and the depression which resulted when men gave up; when leaders refused to lead.

"Successful men do not wait," was the opinion of the speaker. The important things of life cannot wait. He urged the local leaders to lead instead of wait.

The success of President Roosevelt is due to the fact that he refuses to wait. He is a man of action, which the people admire. The speaker paid his respects to critics of the administration for spending money to relieve the suffering of the depression. This has amounted to only 10 billions of dollars. But it is nothing to compare with the 50 billions spent by this country during the war. The national income of this nation in 1929 was 90 billions of dollars.

The speaker urged the leaders not to make excuses for conditions, but to go ahead and do their very best; the share in all ventures of the community; to protect their lives in others.

The speaker was introduced by Charles Dickey, chairman of the program committee.

Visitors were: B. E. Master, J. Horace Griggs, Hugh Flynn, B. I. Barfield, W. C. Garre, all of Amarillo, Rev. Dorn of Dalhart, Rev. Fred Dawson of Canadian, J. L. Naylor of Panhandle.

State Leaders Announce For Walter Woodward

SULPHUR SPRINGS—J. K. Brim of Sulphur Springs, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, asked his friends to vote for Senator Walter Woodward of Coleman for attorney general in introducing Woodward for a speech here.

"I have known Senator Woodward for many years, and, although I have often differed with him on state affairs, I know he is honest, able, and fair," Mr. Brim said.

"He is unquestionably the ablest lawyer in the attorney general's race, and I want my friends to vote for him.

Senator Woodward also was recommended by Rev. D.. B. Doak, presiding elder of the Methodist Church in the Sulphur Springs district.

"I have known Senator Woodward long and well, and he is honest and fair in all things," Rev. Doak said. "He is able and qualified and I recommend him to you for attorney general."

CAMPAIGN TO END SATURDAY BALLOT COUNT

Candidates Are Making Final Appeal To Voters

MANY TO POLLS

State Returns Only In Newspaper Editions Saturday

The July primary election will be held in Texas on Saturday.

With interest increasing the past two weeks, indications are that probably a million ballots will be cast in this election.

However, county candidates in most sections of the state are puzzled at the lack of interest which is being manifest in the campaign by the voters, and wondering just what this may mean so far as their individual cases are concerned.

A few months ago it was predicted that the race for the United States Senate would consume all of the interest of the voters, and that other candidates would be forgotten. This is not proven to be the fact, as this race has not brought forth the interest which thought possible. The campaign of Joe Bailey seems to have fallen far below the expectation of his followers.

The campaign for governor has probably created more interest than was anticipated. Allred has made the most thorough campaign of any of the candidates, speaking three to six times daily in every section of the state. He has been the favorite to lead the ticket since the very beginning of the campaign. However the spectacular race of Clint Small during the past month has made the wise political leaders wonder as to the total votes that may result for Small and Allred. They are freely predicted to lead the ticket.

C. C. McDonald, the Ferguson entry, has carried on a rapid campaign, with no reference to his opponents. James E. Ferguson has added little color to the fight, and has not drawn the crowds of other years.

Tom Hunter is reported to have lost much ground during the past

Pair Nabbed With Liquor On Highway

A woman and a man were arrested last Thursday afternoon between Canyon and Amarillo by Wayne McCormick, county patrol officer, and Boyce Long, state officer, for possession and transportation of liquor.

The car bore an Oklahoma license, and the pair gave the names of Mrs. Zelma Thrash and Claude Stahl of Sayre and Elk City, Oklahoma. Four cases of whiskey and one case of gin were found in the car.

They were arraigned before Justice of the Peace, Mrs. R. F. Stokes, and bond set at $1,500, but were unable to make bond and are lodged in the Potter county jail.

"I Wish One of Those Cook Books"

The above statement has been made by many Randall County women during the past week.

Some of the women who have come after the books were Randall County women who wish the Cook Books for their own use.

Others were buying the Books to send to friends in other sections, just to show what good cooks there were in Randall county.

There are still Cook Books available at 25 cents, or they will be mailed for 28c to any address in the United States.

THE PRIMARY ELECTION

The first primary election will be held Saturday. The News has probably written more political news during the campaign than any weekly newspaper in Texas. During the campaign we have refrained from any unkind or misleading statement regarding any candidate for Governor. We have tried to present to our readers the facts of the campaign, and all the information possible about the man whom we believe to be better qualified than any of the six who are running, our own Clint C. Small of Amarillo.

As we have stated a number of times, we do not blame any of the candidates who are seeking to secure the vote of the people of Northwest Texas. But we do feel that the voters themselves will make a very serious mistake if they are led astray by any of the statements made by the candidates, or by the numerous campaign promises which they know well enough they cannot fulfill.

Clint Small is the only man in the race who has ever done anything worth-while for the people of Northwest Texas.

Clint Small is the only one running for Governor who is not presenting a lot of clap-trap hooey which would be impossible to enact into law.

Clint Small is the only candidate for Governor who is telling the people the unvarnished truth about their state government.

There is no question now about his being in the run-off, in spite of the vain appeals which are being made by the other candidates to the people of this section that he has no chance. The sentiment for Clint Small has grown by leaps and bounds all over the state during the past month, until the managers for the other candidates now admit that Clint Small is the one their candidate must beat in the run-off. Clint Small has sold himself to the sane and sober people of Texas by his clear thinking program.

No man has written as much progressive legislation into the laws of Texas during his years as has Clint Small. The effect of this legislation is what is bringing him the support of people from all over the state. While passing the River Bed Bill six years ago, Senator Small told East Texans that if there was discovered an oil field in their section they would need the law as badly as did West Texas at that time. This prophecy came true with the opening of the East Texas oil field. It is no wonder that the people of East Texas are flocking to the support of Senator Small. He was their friend long before they realized he was doing them a distinct service.

Clint Small saved the taxpayers of Texas $15,000,000 on the penitentiary re-location which was threatened six years ago. He saved the people of Texas from a $300,000,000 highway bond issue which was later proposed. Clint Small has more to his credit in saving the taxpayers money than all the rest of the candidates combined are claiming for themselves. His has been a record of action; while their record is little more than vague claims.

Clint Small is saving the farmers of Texas $3,000,000 annually on the gasoline refund on fuel burned in their tractors.

Clint Small wrote the bill refunding to the counties the interest on their highway bonds.

Clint Small has written a major part of the gas and oil legislation now on the statute books of Texas.

So far as Canyon and Randall county are concerned, the voters will not have much appreciation in their hearts if they fail to vote for Clint Small after he saved W. T. last year when the attempt was made to either kill the college, or reduce it to the rank of a Junior College. The News printed this challenge to his opponents several weeks ago to show if our statement on his stand for W. T was untrue. No one has dared challenge this statement. After all Clint Small has done for Randall county, there should not be a single vote cast against him simply as a small token of appreciation for the kindly work he has done for us. Furthermore, if he is not elected Governor, he will still be our Senator, and we shall need his influence in the future, possibly to a greater extent than we have needed it in the past. He is the only candidate for Governor who approved the teachers college in his platform; he was the first candidate for Governor to make a decided pronouncement against the abolishment of the teachers colleges. He does not mince words when he takes his stand on educational matters.

Those who sought to discredit Clint Small's stand on the race horse bill have abandoned their charge which has been proven a falsehood. Clint Small has never voted for legalized horse racing, which is taking $16,000,000 out of the pockets of people who cannot afford to lose it. Those who challenged his position have discovered that while attempting to discredit Clint Small, they have placed their candidate in the position of approving this form of gambling, as well as approving the open saloons and the gambling joints which are running in open violation of the state laws. The opposition has dug deep into his past, but not once have they found a single misdeed in his public or private life. That he has made some mistakes, he does not deny; but he has never committed a willful act that might injure his fellow man.

On Sunday, July 29th, the Newsman will have been a citizen of Randall county for 24 years. During that time we have attempted to do our part as a citizen. We have spoken freely on political questions, but never have we attempted to lead the voters up a blind alley as some candidates are trying to do in this election. We have always stood for men and measures which we believed to be the best for Randall county. We feel that Canyon and Randall county have more at stake in this election than in any during the 24 years we have been here. It was just before we came that Randall county voters made the serious mistake of turning down the man who located the college here; it would be a greater mistake if the voters in this election failed to rally to the man who saved W. T. when we had to have a friend, and who will be in position to render the same efficient service in the future. Be fair; vote for Clint Small next Saturday.

The frequency with which criminals escape from jails and prisons is a serious indictment upon the methods which are being used in handling the desperate criminals. It's about time that society handle the 2% criminals as this small number deal misery upon the 98% law abiding citizens of the state. The cost of crime is staggering in proportions, approximating the total cost of all other phases of government. It is about time that Texas elect a governor who is pledged to see that the criminals are handled as they should be handled. Clint Small is that man.

A traveling man in Canyon made the statement that he was in Oklahoma before the primary and witnessed the great swell in favor of Marland for Governor. Coming into Texas he stated that the same kind of sentiment was going on for Clint Small. The people are tired of a lot of hooey in their political campaigns. They are anxious for the truth about their state government, as Marland told them in Oklahoma, and Clint Small is telling them in Texas.

The labor trouble in San Francisco evidentally has been settled without serious results which loomed for several days. For several hours it indicated a national catastrophe. When business starts to get back upon a paying basis, labor troubles arise. The strike is a dangerous weapon when fomented in the hands of the reds. Arbitration is the only sensible method of settling difference, either in case of labor or difficulties between nations.

The other day we heard that a whole town was going to vote against a certain candidate as the result of a golf game four years ago. That is a fine way for citizens to express their sentiment at the polls. Democracy cannot be very highly complimented with a four-year-old golf game as the main campaign issue.

Water difficulties have arisen all over the west as a result of the continued drouth. Wells are going dry which were thought to be inexhaustible in supply. The drouth situation becomes more and more serious as the days pass.

It is no time to talk about reducing the educational facilities of Texas. We now stand 28th in illiteracy.

One thing good and certain; more votes will be cast Saturday against some candidates than will be cast for their their opponents.

A farmer at least has this advantage. He is never docked when he is late for work.

Some women work for a living, and others get men's wages by marrying the men.

Candidate for

County and District Clerk

RANDALL COUNTY

TO THE VOTERS OF RANDALL COUNTY:

I am a candidate for the office of County and District Clerk of Randall county and submit my candidacy strictly upon the basis of qualifications, experience and the matter of efficiency. I have been a resident of Canyon and this vicinity for 25 years.

I have had the necessary training for this important office, through ten years in business dealings with the public, including Civil Service with the federal government. I refer you to any business firm in Canyon as to my ability.

This office is primarily a business office, which handles valuable documents involving the property of many people. It must be handled accurately, and with my training, I feel that I am fully qualified to fill the office.

I have attempted to see all voters during the campaign, but have missed many of them. I hope that you will consider this as an urgent appeal for your vote on July 28.

STUDENTS TO CONTINUE ON FEDERAL AID

91 Boys and Girls To Benefit By Federal Grant

HELP UNEXPECTED

High Grades And Good Characters To Decide Selections

Resuming the program carried on by the Government last spring, Dr. J. A. Hill received word on July 21 from Mr. Harry L. Hopkins, National Relief Administrator, to the effect that federal aid will be granted again this year to help college students. Starting on September 1, 1934, the financial grants will extend through the academic school year ending in June, 1935.

Two Objectives

"In thus aiding the colleges," says Dr. Hill, "the National government has two principal objectives: first, to assist the general unemployment situation, and, second, to develop the educational resources of the youth of this nation." Last spring under a similar plan 76 students were given financial aid amounting to an average of $15 per month. This average called for approximately 50 hours of work a month at .30 an hour.

Percentage Raised

Under last year's plan, 10% of the students enrolled as of October 15, 1933, received help, with the proportion of boys and girls corresponding with that of the entire enrollment. According to the new arrangements, the percentage has been advanced to 12% based upon the enrollment of the same date, October 15, 1933, the proportion of boys and girls probably amounting to about 40% and 60% of the total respectively.

Selection Emphasizes Need

The agreement states that $20 is the maximum amount that any student may make, and there must not be so many of these as to raise the average earning capacity above the $15 mark. In selecting students to fill these places, the government is particularly emphasizing need; so that only those who cannot possibly otherwise attend school are eligible. According to the qualifications demanded of applicants, they "must be students of good character and give assurance that they will do high-grade work in college." The letter from Mr. Hopkins continues to state that 'at least 50% of the funds shall be paid to students who were not regularly enrolled in any college or university in January, 1934. . . . Jobs shall be allocated between boys and girls in proportion to the enrollment of each in the particular school concerned.

Committee in Charge

Mr. C. A. Murray, Head of the Mathematics Department, has been named chairman of the committee to select these students. Dr. Hill, in discussing the proposed work of this committee, comments, "We will be governed largely by high school or previous college grades and character rating. . . . Each job assigned will be a real job and not a sinecure."

91 To Be Helped

Being based upon the figure for last year's enrollment, it is assured that this money, which comes through the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, will this year enable 91 boys and girls to climb one more step toward their goal, a college education. Administrative authorities of the college are highly elated over the unlooked-for federal assistance.

W. T. Library Government Depository

The government document room, a part of the library, was begun in 1927 for the purpose of furnishing faculty members and students with all the free material put out by the various departments of the government.

Bulletins cannot be checked out of the document room, but they may be used any time during the day. Texas bulletins may be checked out for three days.

The Government Depository for this district was established here in 1927 when the documents were brought from Clarendon College. All the free publications put out by the government are sent to the library and kept in the document room for reference. Three main types of reference material may be found in this room. There are the records of administration, such as Congressional reports, records of the performance of functions, such as law enforcement, and accounts of special investigations, such as reports on diseases, and scientific research. There are also reports of the agricultural experiments conducted by the government and statistics showing the conditions of business and industry.

The files of newspaper clippings and the picture files also prove themselves very useful. These files are not confined to governmental activities, but cover the widest possible range of subjects.

Many reference librarians believe that no library can give adequate service without the use of government publications. They are accurate, up-to-date, and unsurpassed as reference tools. They are often the only available sources of information, and are considered by many to be the most valuable of all reference books.

In 1873, a bill was passed in Congress providing for the distribution of government publications by the Secretary of the Interior.

In 1895 the Office of Superintendent of Documents was created, and provision was made for establishing Government Depositories in each Congressional District. A library had to have over one thousand books other than government documents before it could become a Depository. It has since been made possible for other libraries to obtain these bulletins, and there are now four hundred and nine-two out of a possible six hundred and sixty-three Government Depositories.

A Government Depository must accept, preserve, and make accessible to the public all publications sent to them by the Superintendent of Documents. Documents cannct be sold, disposed of, or destroyed without the permission of the Superintendent of Documents. Various bulletins and pamphlets are received each day and put on the shelves for use.

The Government Depositories are open to everyone, and are filled with such a variety of material that they are extremely valuable for reference work in many different fields of activity, both within and outside of school.

A MESSAGE To The Voters Of Randall County

As a final word before you vote on July 28th, I wish to tell my friends how much I appreciate the support they have given me during this campaign. I have lived 11 years in Canyon. I am a Democrat. I have had sufficient business experience to handle the office to the satisfaction of the tax payers.

I am making every effort to see every voter of Randall County before the primary. However, I may unintentionally miss some of the voters in making the canvass. This I assure you shall be unintentional on my part. I hope that you shall take this as a personal invitation to vote for me on July 28th.

If elected I shall try to give you faithful and efficient service to each and every taxpayer of the county.

A. B. HOLT

Candidate for

County and District Clerk

To The Voters Of Randall County

It is easy to criticize. Anybody can criticize. Of course I have made mistakes. Of course Randall County has not done all you wanted it to do. Perhaps it has not given you all the work you wanted. But the only way for the County to get money is through taxes, and some people have not paid taxes for five years.

But considering everything, the County has managed to get along pretty well. Randall County has done more work, made more permanent improvements, stayed in better financial condition, cut taxes more, and paid more debts then either of the adjoining counties—Deaf Smith, Swisher, or Castro.

If you are satisfied to go on this way, I ask for your support Saturday.

A Proposition to the Voters, Not to The Candidates

(Star-Telegram)

The Star-Telegram has been accused of asking the two certain losers in the gubernatorial campaign to withdraw in favor of Senator Small. Knowing something about political campaigning, we could not be so naive.

It is unusual that a political candidate doomed to lose, shows the extraordinary good sense which is exampled by the action of Mr. E. K. Rusell. Candidates ordinarily stay in to the bitter end, facing inevitable defeat at the polls rather than admit it earlier by stepping out.

This is one of the faults of our primary system. It is an extremely unfortunate one when, as at the present time, it makes for a division of votes that would better serve the State's welfare if they were concentrated on one candidate who had a chance to win.

Accordingly, The Star-Telegram has not and does not address a request to either Mr. Edgar Witt or to Mr. Maury Hughes that they withdraw. On the contrary, it is confident that neither will do so.

But the supporters of Mr. Witt and Mr. Hughes make up a different proposition.

Some of these supporters are going to vote for either Mr. Witt or Mr. Hughes out of personal friendship or liking. They are "set," and are not to be disturbed by the prospect that their candidate will lose.

But a lot of others, doubtless the majority in each case of the strength of the two candidates, have turned to them because of the things the candidates stand for. There is nothing personal in their allegiance. It is issues, ideas and principles they are interested in.

It is to these that The Star-Telegram advances the proposition that their wishes and desires in state government will be better served by switching to Senator Small, who more nearly than any other candidate represents the things they regard as worth while, AND WHO HAS A REAL CHANCE TO WIN.

To those who are supporting Mr. Hughes because he stands for repeal of the anti-liquor amendment and legalized sale of liquor under proper regulation, it is pointed out that Senator Small also stands for submission of repeal and for carrying out the people's wishes expressed in the vote on submission.

Senator Small believes in settling the liquor question by local option according to the desires of the people in each locality. He does not believe in making it a political football, as has the Ferguson machine which is behind Mr. McDonald.

In Senator Small's hands the liquor question will be handled sanely and sensibly. The people will be allowed to vote their desires, and those desires once expressed will be carried out.

At the same time, the regulatory laws will be wisely drawn and rigidly enforced, so that liberty shall not mean license leading inevitably to a revival of sentiment for suppression of liberty.

To those who are supporting Mr. Witt because he is a higher type of man than usually found in politics, because he is sound and sensible, it is pointed out that Senator Small is also in that same class.

With Mr. Small Governor, the State's government will be returned to that dignity and high character which the greatness of Texas demands. With Senator Small Governor, the assertion that public office is a public trust will again have a meaning in Texas.

The point is that Senator Small can be assured of a place in the run-off and final victory by the first-primary votes of Witt and Hughes supporters who are even now planning to vote for Small when their candidates are eliminated in the first primary.

To those of whom the ideas and ideals of candidates are more important than any other consideration, we pose the question: WHY TAKE A CHANCE?

Mr. Witt and Mr. Hughes may be running for something two years or four years from now. What we are interested in now is the election of a fit and able Governor this year.

Senator Small is by long odds the most able and the best qualified man in the race. He is a known quantity. His long and brilliant public record has placed him squarely before the public as the outstanding man in the race.

Mr. Witt can not win. Mr. Hughes can not win. Why not vote for a worthy man who can win? Why not help name a man who will be satisfactory to all as the next Governor of Texas?

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Sarah Palfrey, Member of Noted Tennis Family, Shows Promise of Being Next National Woman Champ

MEMBERS of a certain Massachusetts family are always in the courts. But not the legal kind. Each of the five girls in the Palfrey family of Sharon, Mass., is a tennis expert; one of them so good with the racket that she promises soon to become the foremost woman tennis player in the United States.

Each of the Palfrey lasses—Margaret (known to her friends as Polly), Elizabeth (who answers to the name of Lee), Mianne, Sarah, and Joanna—won a national junior title in doubles before graduation from school. And a boy, John G., Jr., a lad of 15, has garnered five state championships for boys and shows promise of becoming a great player later on.

But this story deals with the most remarkable member of the Palfrey female quintet—Sarah.

It appears that this charming 21-year-old tenniseer may fulfill a prediction Helen Wills Moody made about her some time ago, that the little Palfrey girl was a cinch to win the national women's title.

Sarah's sensational playing in England recently as a member of the U. S. Wightman Cup squad following her sterling work in the same capacity last year, seems to indicate that Mrs. Moody should get herself a crystal ball and go in the fortune-telling business. For there's only one obstacle between Sarah Palfrey and the titular toga—Helen Jacobs of California.

Miss Palfrey and Jacobs are scheduled to clash twice this year, and all signs seem to point to a new woman's champ. After all, Helen isn't quite as good, they say, as she used to be; and, hovering over her during her contests with her lusty young opponent will be the specter of that defeat she suffered at Sarah's hands last year at Seabright, when the latter tumbled Helen from her throne as women's national singles champion.

Sarah Palfrey, 21, one of the Massachusetts tennis-playing Palfreys, may soon fulfill a prediction that she'll be next national women's tennis champ. She is shown above as she looks on and off the courts.

Seed and Feed Loans Continue in Large Numbers

Time for making wheat seed loans has been extended until August 15th, according to authority received this week by W. C. Black, chairman of the local committee. Many farmers are applying for loans with which to plant wheat this fall.

"Randall county has an excellent record in the repayment of seed loans," stated the district representative of the government, "and the local committee is making every effort to co-operate with the government and the farmers," he added.

Money on feed loans get back to the farmers four days after the applications are approved in the local office. The government is making these feed loans in order to assist the farmers in carrying their stock through the drouth period. A large number of these loans have been approved, and the money now being used by the farmers.

Farmers are loaned money by the government on a plain note, without mortgage, for the purpose of buying feed for their cattle, horses, mules, hogs, sheep and poultry. The loans are made on a monthly basis, and sufficient to provide feed for all stock and poultry on the farms.

Mrs. James Cole is in charge of the seed and feed loans at the Chamber of Commerce office in the court house.

WARWICK PRINTING CO.

Reports Sat. On Enrollment Had 138 New Studes

Many Completed Work On Degrees First 6 Weeks

The enrollment of 740 summer students for the second term of school at W. T. was completed Saturday, July 21, 138 of these being new students. This amount is probably near the norm considering present territorial conditions, although approximately 300 more attended school during the first term. The cause of the large enrollment during the first term was probably due to the teachers' desires to fulfill the new state requirements.

Since many of the schools in the cotton district open in July and August, a good many teachers left to begin their work there. Work toward the receiving of degrees was completed by some who will return to participate in the commencement exercises in August. Others finished work necessary to fulfill state requirements, while a few received their permanent certificates.

A number of these people will return in September for the first half-year's work of the regular school year.

Play Night This Friday Features

Flood Light Makes Possible Night Play

First Opening New Croquet Courts

Play Night next, scheduled for Friday night, July 27th, carries with it a feature which should provide lasting entertainment for students of W. T., namely, the opening of the new croquet and horseshoe-pitching courts that are now in process of being built just east of Burton Gymnasium.

The courts will be well lighted with two street bracket lights and three flood lights; so that their usefulness will be doubled as far as summer student enjoyment is concerned. There will be two croquet courts, four horseshoe courts, besides three table sets of lawn tennis which are being provided in conjunction with the other attractions. These innovations constitute only a small part of the plans for a greater physical education program at West Texas.

At this coming Play Night "everybody plays," says Coach Baggett, who wants to get enough activities lined up so that everyone may take part. Volley and Servus Ball will also be played on the Buffalo Field between the Women's Physical Education Class and the Men's Team. The field will be lighted soon after 8:00 o'clock, and activities will get under way immediately. It is hoped that with added attractions more interest will be shown in these universal sports.

The program for the evening will be as follows:

1. Tate-Oakes Insurance Ball Club, Amarillo, vs. All-Stars on Buffalo Field.
2. Singing Bill Smith's boys vs. Town-Criers, local business men's teams, immediately following on the field.
3. Women's P. E. Class vs. Men's Team, volleyball.
4. Servus Ball, Men's Intramural.
5. Opening of the new croquet courts.

For Second Term

R. N. (Bob) BARNETT

During my campaign for a Secoind Term as your Sheriff and Tax Collector, I have attempted to see all voters, but owing to the duties of my office, I have not been able to solicit all of the voters. I hope that you shall take this as a personal invitation to give me your vote on July 28th.

The duties of Tax Assessor have been added to the office I now hold. This involves more work which must be carefully looked after. Two years ago I promised efficient office assistants; this I am certain has been given to the taxpayers.

Two years ago I promised strict law enforcement in the county; this I am sure you will agree has been my earnest endeavor. My record of accomplishment will convince the voters that I shall continue to enforce the law without fear or favor.

I thank you for past considerations, and hope that you shall see fit to re-elect me next Saturday.

Horse Show to Be Staged By Tri-State Fair

A colorful and brilliant horse show, which will be a social highlight in the Southwest, will be sponsored by the Tri-State Fair Association in Amarillo the nights of August 6 and 7.

Amarillo has had other horse shows, but none has been on the scale proposed for this year's Tri-State. Horses from half a dozen cities in three states already have been entered in the various classes, and within the next ten days scores of the finest thoroughbreds the Southwest affords are expected to have their names on the entry list.

Cash prizes will be given in every event, and in addition, handsome loving cups and ribbons will be presented. In the stake events, elaborate and costly trophies will be offered in addition to the cash awards. There will be 22 classes, covering all sorts of exhibition riding. All entries should be in the secretary's office by July 25. There will be no entry fee except in stake classes.

Mason King, show manager, announces that box stalls will be available at nominal rental, and a training ring will be provided beginning July 27 for exhibitors.

The show will be held at the Tri-State Fair Grounds just east of Amarillo, where a successful horse race meet recently was concluded. The plant is complete in every detail, with ample room for floodlighted show ring, and excellent grandstand facilities. The show is "open to the world" and visitors from all over the Southwest are expected to attend.

The Fair Association has issued its prize list and its rules and regulations. Judges who have worked in the National and Royal shows will be in charge.

The managing directors of the show are Wilbur C. Hawk, general manager of the Amarillo News-Globe and president of the Tri-State Fair Association; O. L. Taylor, secretary and general manager of the fair; Mason King, show manager, and Mrs. Ned O. Miller, show secretary. All communications to the show should be addressed to Mrs. Miller, 304 Oliver-Eakle Building, Amarillo.

HOME EC. WORK in W. T. GETS NEW APPROVAL

About 450 Schools Will Be Opened To W. T. Home Ec. Majors

As a result of the conference here week before last with Miss Lillian Peek, State Director of Vocational Home Economics, a wide field will be opened to home economics majors of this and other teachers colleges of Texas which has previously been closed because of a disagreement upon standards imposed by the State Department and set up by the colleges, themselves.

Agreements Enumerated

With President J. A. Hill, Miss Marian Normington, Head of the Home Economics Department, and Dr. R. P. Jarrett, Dean of the College, representing this college, the following agreements were reached with Miss Peek which have since been approved by Mr. L. A. Woods, State Superintendent of Public Instruction:

1. As soon as feasible, the college is to employ a teacher trainer who meets the standards set up in Bulletin 304 (put out by Miss Peek's department).

2. The college is to provide a practice house for its home economics students.

3. The college is to provide a nursery school staff that approaches the standards referred to in Bulletin 304.

4. A major part of the practice teaching is henceforth to be done in a vocational school, though the use of the demonstration school for preliminary preparation may be continued.

5. The college agrees that a young woman who wants a general high school certificate and also a home economics certificate should be required to have 129 semester hours for graduation.

6. Miss Peek's department will give a three week's summer course in this college in the summer of 1935 without cost to W. T., except such materials and equipment as are necessary.

Recommendations Conservative

Under the above conditions, those W. T. graduates recommended by the college as home economics majors will receive vocational certificates. The administrators agree to be careful and conservative in recommending the graduates for certification, and further agree to send the home economics staff into the field rather regularly to study vocational home economics work as it is practiced in the high school.

Old Problem

Dr. Hill states in his following letter to Mr. Wood, "I think we have worked out a co-operative relationship which promises to solve our troubles in this department." This difficulty is one of old standing, and college authorities as well as the state director are relieved at its final satisfactory settlement.

450 Schools

Home economics graduates of W. T. will welcome the news that at last the 450 schools teaching vocational home economics in Texas that have before been practically closed to them will now accept their qualifications as teachers. Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Director of the Bureau of Public Service of the college, has been instructed to send out letters to all recent students of home economics here notifying them of the change.

Affects Other Colleges

It is expected that the other teachers colleges, all but two of which have previously been restricted in the same manner, will agree to the above-mentioned program and be accorded the same privileges. This tremendously important step in favor of the teachers college marks another instance in which the West Texas State Teachers College has proven itself a leader in securing the recognition of these institutions.

month, while Witt and Hughes have failed to stir up much enthusiasm among their followers.

The attorney general's race has caused much comment. Walter Woodward of Coleman started as the favorite. William McCraw has been fiercely slashing the Coleman Senator during the past six weeks, and reports indicate that he has steadily gained.

None of the other state races have developed much enthusiasm in this section of the state.

County election judges have been advised by County Chairman A. M. Smith to telephone or bring the returns of their boxes to the News office as soon as the count is completed. While state races will not be posted in any part of Texas this year, local races will bring out vast numbers to follow the returns of the bulletin boards.

The following will be the judges of the various boxes in the county:

Hog Contracts Are Sent to College Station Saturday

The contracts of the Randall County Corn-Hog Production Control Association were sent to College Station Saturday where they will be checked before being forwarded on to Washington.

While no time limit is set for action upon these contracts, it is estimated that it will require about one month for the contracts to be cleared and checks forwarded to the farmers.

Vice President Approves Connally For Re-Election

Uvalde, Texas, July 12, 1934.
General W. A. Keeling,
1205 Norwood Building,
Austin, Texas.
My dear General Keeling:

I have received your favor of July 11, and hasten to make reply.

Sometime ago I announced that I would vote for Senator Connally for re-election to the Senate. I have no hesitancy in expressing the reasons for my action.

Since 1917 Tom Connally and I have served together in Congress, first in the House of Representatives and lately in the Senate. During that time I have had exceptional opportunity to judge of his services to the people of Texas and to the Republic. Senator Connally is a member of the two most important committees in the Senate, Foreign Relations and Finance. He is also a member of the Senate Policy Committee, appointed by the Democratic Caucus to determine the policies of legislation for the Democratic organization. He occupies a powerful and influential place in the Senate by reason of his committee assignments.

He is an honest, able, and courageous public servant and ought to remain in the Senate. I do not believe there is a man in Texas who could represent the interests of this state as well as he can under present conditions.

Senator Connally has rendered the Democratic Pary distinguished service in co-operating with the Democratic colleagues in the Senate and with President Roosevelt in the National Recovery Program. He enjoys the confidence and esteem of his colleagues in the Senate and of the President of the United States.

In my opinion it would be a great misfortune to fail to return Tom Connally to the Senate.

Sincerely,
(Signed) JNO. N. GARNER

To The Voters

PRECINCT NO. 1

I have endeavored to see all of the voters of Precinct No. 1 and discuss with them my candidacy for re-election for a Second Term as your County Commissioner. Owing to the many duties of this office I have been unable to see all voters, but trust that you will accept this message as a cordial invitation to support me in Saturday's primary.

I have devoted my time in looking after the duties of this office, and believe that the record of my first term is a credit to myself, and one of which the tax payers may approve.

I appreciate the fact that you elected me two year ago, and if re-elected Saturday it shall be my purpose to continue to give you the same efficient service as I have during my first term.

G. B. HEATH

Candidate for re-election for COUNTY COMMISSIONER, Precinct No. 1.

For District Judge

HENRY S. BISHOP

It has long been the settled policy in Texas and many other states to continue Judges of Appellate and district Courts for long periods.

My answer to the criticisms of the other two candidates of my long tenure as District Attorney and District Judge is that the people have approved of my record by substantial majorities, especially in Randall County.

This commands my profoundest gratitude and my pledge to so continue in their service if re-elected.

Henry S. Bishop
